FEATURED SPEAKER:
PATRICK GALLAGHER

History lovers appreciate the lasting impact of a compelling museum experience. Exhibits can bring the viewer face to face with the objects, sights, sounds, and voices of another time.

As founder and president of Gallagher & Associates, Patrick Gallagher has led the creation of some of the world’s most memorable museum experiences, especially in the field of military history. His firm’s exhibits have personalized and highlighted individuals, battles, and events to create a deeper understanding of the sacrifices made by those who have fought for freedom. Gallagher’s portfolio includes the National World War II Museum (New Orleans), the Gettysburg National Military Park, the Visitor’s Center at the Normandy American Cemetery in France, and exhibits for the Coast Guard, Air Force, Navy and Army. Outside the military, recent installations have included the International Spy Museum (D.C.), the College Football Hall of Fame in Atlanta, the Jamestown Settlement Museum, and the LBJ Presidential Library and Museum (Austin).

In today’s presentation, Mr. Gallagher will share some of the heroic stories discovered during the research for his firm’s military projects. He will also explain the interactive design techniques used to bring these stories to life.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT: HILLARY STRINGFELLOW

What a great time to be a part of Coastal Georgia Historical Society as we celebrate the accomplishments of the past year and the happenings of the year to come. On top of a regular calendar of events, 2016 marked a full year for the Society. This annual report includes a comprehensive listing, and I encourage you to take a minute to review this past year's impressive list of activities.

The Chautauqua Lecture Series included five programs this year with record attendance. One of the best measures of the popularity of our programs is growth in membership over the past five years. Membership revenues have grown from $80,000 to over $280,000 during this period. The largest increase has been in the Keeper of the Light category, which has grown from 58 to over 175 members! I am grateful to the Development Committee, chaired by Brenda Jones, for the fabulous job that they have done engaging new people and encouraging our existing members to increase their investment in our organization. And, my heartfelt thank you to our membership, the lifeblood of our organization, for your ongoing commitment and enthusiasm.

As 2016 draws to a close, the Board of Directors gives a special thank you to Anne Stembler, Nancy DeLong, and Susan Hartman who are completing their terms of service on the Board. Anne served as President during the restoration of the Keeper's Dwelling and was a generous supporter of the project, she was a member of the Collections and Education Committee, and under her leadership, the Keeper of the Light memberships increased dramatically. Susan has provided guidance to the Board as Governance Chair, and together with her husband Jack, led the successful Keeper's Dwelling Campaign. Nancy has served faithfully as co-chair of the Collections and Education Committee and a member of the Development Committee. She has generously given her time, talents, and resources without hesitation. We thank each of them for the countless hours, devoted leadership, and great assistance to the mission, staff, and members of the Society.

Looking forward to a new year, the Board of Directors is energized by the continued efforts of the staff who are leading the Society towards big goals and projects of significant magnitude. In addition to a full calendar of events and programs, the staff has been working hard on the new World War II Home Front Museum at the Historic Coast Guard Station and are on track for a Spring 2018 opening. I would also like to warmly welcome our new Board members Jim DeLong, Sally Hawie, Casey Lavin, Reg Murphy, and Brenda Thompson.

Thank you for your membership, your support of Society facilities and programs, and your dedication to our mission. It is exciting to think about all there is to come in 2017. Happy New Year!

Hillary Stringfellow
President

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT: SHERRI JONES

After celebrating the past 50 years of service to the community in 2015, 2016 was a time of embracing the future. Much of the work this year took place behind the scenes in readying important resources, such as a new website. Other projects, like the first Journeys series, were in response to member comments and ideas from interested stakeholders. Throughout the year, we have asked ourselves how we can continue to serve our growing membership and engage new audiences. How can we be more involved in our community, especially with children and families? And, critically, how can we ensure that the new World War II Home Front Museum is a financially viable and self-sustaining asset to the Society like the lighthouse site?

In response to requests from our membership, the Society introduced a new education series called Journeys. The signature series was comprised of an educational program in coordination with an expert-led field trip. The inaugural Journeys featured the American Bomber Boys of World War II and combined a guided field trip to the National Museum of the Mighty 8th Air Force with a lecture by famed author and World War II historian Donald Miller. Dr. Miller discussed his best-selling book Masters of the Air and shared the personal stories of the young Americans who brought the war to Hitler's doorstep. The 2016 Journeys series was an exciting introduction to a new educational opportunity for Society members and a chance to make good on our promise of expanding cultural programming for our members.

Even though the Society has been presenting the Chautauqua Lecture Series for over 20 years, we continue to seek new ways to increase the impact of this rich educational resource. For the first time, a Chautauqua speaker, Hank Klibanoff, spoke to 225 students in U.S. History and African American Studies classes at Glynn Academy and Brunswick High. Mr. Klibanoff, a Pulitzer Prize winning journalist, presented programs about his work with the Georgia Civil Rights Cold Case Project. Marie Feazel, the Advanced Placement History teacher at Glynn Academy, said the following "I appreciate the efforts of the Coastal Georgia Historical Society in bringing a dynamic speaker to enrich the lives of students. The determination of Mr. Hank Klibanoff to focus his considerable talents and expertise on Civil Rights cold cases has inspired my students. Thank you for providing new and engaging historical resources!"

Another first this year was engaging a world-famous company, Museum Hack, to modernize our approach to school tours. Museum Hack is known for their renegade museum tours in New York City, Washington DC, and San Francisco. They arrive at a museum with fresh eyes and never stop asking the question "how do we make this more interesting?" Museum Hack consultants worked with our education director and docents to make our school tours fun and memorable by employing non-traditional methods like sassy stories, juicy gossip, games in the galleries, and fun photos. By the end of the workshop, docents had developed dynamic stories that they were passionate about telling to describe their favorite artifacts and historical figures. The Society looks forward to our continued collaboration with Museum Hack and adapting our interpretive style to educate and entertain our audiences.

Over the course of the year, the Society undertook a major project to build a new website that would create a striking online presence for a variety of users and showcase all aspects of our dynamic organization. We wanted the overall design to reinforce the Society's well established "brand" and reflect the standard of excellence that we adhere to as an American Alliance of Museums accredited museum. A review of our domain name was completed as part of the project and a new domain, www.coastalgeorgiahistory.org was adopted. Behind the scenes, we needed a sophisticated tool for the future that would help drive traffic to our site by connecting to Google Analytics, encourage interaction with our social media platform, allow for ease in managing and updating for staff, and eliminate reliance on third party event booking.

The new website, launching early this year, is chock full of stunning photography that introduces first-time visitors to the beauty and history of our sites and reminds friends of our treasured assets. The new site is easy to navigate and provides members instant access to current Society programs and activities. Many new features have been added including "Collection Highlights" by Buddy Sullivan to provide wider access to objects in the Society's collection to teachers and researchers. Visitors will easily locate information related to planning a family day or a special event like a wedding or rehearsal dinner at our oceanside setting. The enhanced design will allow us to provide a quality experience for all visitors, particularly as our audiences grow.

The most valuable groundwork for the future was laid in our collaboration with Gallagher & Associates to design the concept for the new World War II Home Front Museum. At the National World War II Museum in New Orleans, Gallagher has set the standard for storytelling for the next generation to understand the impact of World War II on their lives. They have a holistic approach to their projects and are as concerned with educating and engaging the visitor as they are with producing a financially viable museum. Presenting a world class museum experience to the community is a bold step for the Society and we are grateful for Gallagher's partnership to ensure that the project will enhance Coastal Georgia's standing as a Heritage Tourism destination.

2017 will be another crucial year for our organization as we tackle an ambitious schedule towards a grand opening of the new museum next spring. This year's challenges will include raising $3 million to fund the project, working with Gallagher on exhibit research and design, and completing construction to prepare the historic buildings. Like last year, one of the great joys of the year will be connecting with people in our community through the Home Front story. Our organization has fallen in love with the story and is wholly committed to creating a dedicated space to commemorate a time in our history when residents worked together to achieve a common goal. On behalf of the Board of Directors and staff, we truly appreciate your belief in our mission and look forward to our journey together towards the opening of the new museum and beyond!

OPERATIONS

Due to Hurricane Matthew, the St. Simons Lighthouse Museum, Museum Store, and administrative offices were closed October 6 and did not reopen until October 13. Overall, we estimate that the hurricane impacted three weeks of operations, reducing actual revenues for the month of October to half of the budget figures. Fortunately, the Society was able to absorb the negative impact on October revenues and still finish the year ahead of budget. We are happy to report that storm damage to our sites and historic buildings was minimal.

2016: HIGHLIGHTS OF AN EXCITING YEAR

The Society’s primary service to the community continues to be providing stewardship and public access to the St. Simons Lighthouse Museum and the Maritime Center at the Historic Coast Guard Station. Note that the Station was closed March through December for structural repairs and site work.

Programs, Lectures and Events

The Society strives to be a center for educational and cultural excellence in our community. The A.W. Jones Heritage Center serves as the venue for a full schedule of activities, lectures and exhibits during the year, as well as providing space for the Society's offices, archives, library, the Museum Store and event rentals.

■ Buddy Sullivan, noted historian on Coastal Georgia history, presented his annual six-week course, An Overview of Georgia’s Barrier Islands, January 12 through February 16. The course attracted 65 participants.

■ The Society, in conjunction with the St. Simons Land Trust, offered in-depth history tours of Cannon’s Point Preserve January 22; February 12, 26; and March 4, 11 with a total of 82 participants. Archaeology consultant Myrna Crook provided a detailed interpretation of the historic site, including the John Couper family and life at Cannon's Point during the plantation period.

■ The Society’s Annual Meeting was held on January 24 in The Cloister Ballroom on Sea Island. Keynote speaker Dr. Libby O’Connell, History Channel’s Chief Historian, presented a lecture entitled The American Plate: A Culinary History, to 328 members and guests in attendance. The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 070-10-10 was awarded the Cunningham Bowl, and Cindy Rackley was awarded the Rodriguez Service Award for extraordinary service to the Society. A reception honoring Keepers of the Light was held after the meeting at the home of

Sybil and Ed Ralston. Board member Cindy Rackley chaired the event.

■ For Georgia History Day on February 5, volunteer Cesar Rodriguez presented a program about the Lighthouse to 3rd – 5th graders at Oglethorpe Point Elementary School.

■ On February 15, David and Ginger Hildebrand of the Colonial Music Institute near Annapolis, Maryland presented a concert of music from Early America to 30 people. The performance featured period instruments, attire, and historical commentary and was presented in partnership with Fort Frederica.

■ On February 25, over 200 people enjoyed a tribute to the Georgia Sea Island Singers, complete with performances of music and dance by Frankie Quimby and members of her family. The event celebrated the Society receiving a digital archive from the Alan Lomax Collection at the American Folklife Center of the Library of Congress and the Association for Cultural Equity (ACE). The donation contains copies of folklorist Alan Lomax's recordings and images of Bessie Jones and the Georgia Sea Island Singers, collected between 1959 and 1966.

In addition to Ms. Quimby and her family, presenters included Anna Lomax Wood, the folklorist's daughter and ACE president; Dr. Todd Harvey, Lomax Collection curator at the Library of Congress; and Patty Deveau, former Society board member and president of the Friends of Harrington School. Tributes to Ms. Quimby and the donors were presented by Glynn County Commissioner Dale Provenzano, Gullah Geechee Corridor Commissioner Griffin Lotson, and representatives of U.S. Congressman Buddy Carter, State Senator William Ligon, and State Representative Alex Atwood. Our deepest appreciation to Patty Deveau for organizing this significant event.

■ Beginning in March, Glynn County made repairs and ADA alterations to the Historic Coast Guard Station building and site in preparation of the new World War II Home Front Museum.

The County completed the work in October and we are thankful for their generous support.

■ The Society sponsored the regional contest for National History Day, a highly regarded annual academic program for middle and high school students offered by the Georgia Humanities Council. The contest was held March 30 at the A.W. Jones Heritage Center and attracted 30 students.

■ From April 12 to May 31, the Society's collection of watercolors by author, lawyer, and artist Vara Majette was on exhibit at the Old Jail Museum in Darien, Georgia.

■ Over fifty Society volunteers attended the annual Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon on April 20. Special recognition was given to Larry Bacon, Bea Boglione, Myrna Crook, Susan Garrett, Jack O'Hagan, Gail Rivard, Janis Rodriguez, Anne Thigpen, and Robin White for dedicating over 100 hours of volunteer service.

■ The Spring Membership Meeting was held on April 28. Dr. Nicholas Honerkamp, the Society's consulting archaeologist, discussed his research regarding slave sites on St. Simons, Sapelo, and Ossabaw Islands. There were 200 members in attendance.

■ The Little Light Music Concert Series opened on May 8 with the Tams, followed by Soul Fish on June 19. Still Cruzin' performed on July 3. Island Garage Band played August 14 and Sensational Sounds of Motown closed the season on September 4. The Series entertained 5,000 concertgoers and generated around $40,000 for the Society. We are grateful to our generous sponsors: Brown-Rose Wealth Management, Elegant Island Living, Hudson Heating and Air, Sea Island Landscaping, Sea Island Properties, and Straton Hall Events.

■ Every Friday morning in June, the Society held Friday Fun Days at the Lighthouse. Educational programs and activities were free with admission. Approximately 250 children enjoyed this exciting series.

■ Our School Tour Docents participated in a workshop June 14 – 16 facilitated by a consultant from the world-famous company, Museum Hack, designer of interactive, non-traditional museum tours. During the session, the docents learned how to engage schoolchildren with dynamic storytelling and museum games.

■ On June 20, the Society hosted 25 rising first, second, and third graders from the St. Simons Boys & Girls Club for an archaeology program at the Lighthouse.

■ The 2016 Chautauqua Lecture Series, Pulitzer's Prize Turns 100: Celebrating Connections to Georgia and Our Coast, explored connections between our state and the coveted award. In a series of five programs, scholars and authors focused on winners in different categories and the impact of the Prize.

The series began on August 11 with "Gene and Carlotta: The Origins of Eugene O'Neill's Sea Island Retreat," a lecture by Dr. Robert M. Dowling, Professor of English at Central Connecticut State University and author of the acclaimed 2014 biography, Eugene O'Neill: A Life in Four Acts.

On August 18, Pulitzer Prize winner Hank Klibanoff presented "The Past is Never Dead: Georgia Civil Rights Cold Cases and Why They Matter." He is the James M. Cox, Jr. Professor of Journalism at Emory University and oversees the Civil Rights Cold Case Project, which investigates unsolved racial murders committed during the civil rights era. On August 19, Klibanoff spoke to 225 students from U.S. History and African American Studies classes at Glynn Academy and Brunswick High about his work with the Georgia Civil Rights Cold Case Project.

James McGrath Morris' lecture on August 25 examined the fascinating life of Joseph Pulitzer, who transformed journalism through sensationalism and mass circulation. Morris' 2010 biography entitled Pulitzer: A Life in Politics, Print, and Power was cited by the Wall Street Journal as one of the five best books on American moguls.

On September 1, Edward J. Larson, Professor of History and Chair in Law at Pepperdine University, presented "The Scopes Trial in History and Folklore." While at the University of Georgia, Dr. Larson won the 1998 Pulitzer Prize in History for his book, Summer for the Gods: The Scopes Trial and America's Continuing Debate over Science and Religion. Author of nine books, his topics have ranged from evolution and Antarctic science to America's founding fathers.

In preparation for our fifth and final program, we invited everyone to read Caroline Miller's Lamb in His Bosom. On September 15, Dr. Pearl McHaney presented "Georgia's Pulitzer Prize Novels: Caroline Miller's Lamb in His Bosom and Beyond". Dr. McHaney is Associate Dean for Fine Arts and Professor of English at Georgia State University.

The Society is grateful to Wells Fargo Advisors for their financial support of the Chautauqua Lecture Series.

■ The second annual Community Day was held on November 5 when we opened the St. Simons Lighthouse Museum free of charge. Over 850 children and family members enjoyed a day of fun, education, history, and exploration. Dr. Zach Powell of Dentistry in Redfern sponsored this year's event.

■ The Fall Membership Meeting was held on November 10. Max Edelson, Ph.D. presented "Tracing the Southern Frontier: The Georgia Sea Islands in Colonial Maps" to 200 attendees. Dr. Edelson, Associate Professor of History at the University of Virginia, discussed the most important 18th century maps of our area. Holiday refreshments were served to members before the meeting.

■ The Museum Store hosted a Holiday Open House on November 19.

The Society presented "SSI Archives" on a monthly basis in Elegant Island Living magazine this year. Produced by Society curator Mimi Rogers and Lawrence Certain of Faulkenberry Certain Advertising, each article was themed around special objects from the Society's archives. This popular series will continue in 2017.

- THE ARCHAEOLOGY LAB
- The laboratory, located in the Education Building at the Historic Coast Guard Station on East Beach, has continued to promote the study of local archaeology and to preserve the artifacts under its care. Scott Clark has served as our intern throughout the year. A former student of the Society’s Consulting Archaeologist Dr. Nicholas Honerkamp, Scott is pursuing his master’s degree in anthropology at Georgia Southern University. The Golden Isles Archaeological Society continues to contribute generous financial support to operations. We appreciate the many hours of work undertaken by loyal volunteers. Dr. Honerkamp has provided valuable guidance throughout the year, and Society Board member Myrna Cook has devoted countless hours to management of the facility.
- Projects during the year have included:
- Assisting with a project at Cannon’s Point Preserve in coordination with State Archaeologist Dr. Bryan Tucker and Dr. Megan Tucker from the University of West Georgia
  - Processing and curation of artifacts associated with that project
  - Expanding metal preservation program
  - Assisting with a mock dig for the Boys and Girls Club
  - Assisting Cassina Garden Club with processing and identifying artifacts found at the Gascoigne Bluff slave cabins
  - Preparing 3 portable display cases to present artifacts from Cannon’s Point: Native American, 19th planter’s household, and 19th century slave community
  - Presenting lectures, tours, and other educational services

SOCIETY VOLUNTEERS

Since the Society's founding, volunteers have worked diligently to bring our mission to life as the front-line connection with visitors to our museums. Our successes are due to the dedication, commitment, love of history and support demonstrated by these faithful stewards. We extend our appreciation to these individuals who continue to devote their time and talent to the work of the Society serving as museum docents, tour guides, archives' registrars and researchers, event volunteers, administrative office volunteers, archaeology volunteers, and members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Lighthouse Crew.
